Dear Jim,

It is about six weeks since I asked you for copies of three pages we got under discovery in the Ray case. As I then told you, I wanted them for a book-length manuscript. About four weeks ago, when I realized that I should include some of that, I asked you to please send me a copy of the exhibits we entered in that case. When I was given th transcripts they were not included and there is some o of that I'd decided to use. You wrote me from California that when you got home you would send me those copies. I guess you are still in California because I've gotten nothing from you and heard nothing from you.

I told you I'd pay the cost of xeroxing. I did not remind you that since you got what you got after 75-1996 you were to have sent me the $10,000 you got me involved in when I did not want that, the alleged consultancy, and then you did nothing to assure that I would be paid when the promise was made.

THERE IS more of which I could have reminded you but I suppose that by now there is no reason to hope that you can avoid the nuttiness you get involved in, what a reasonable mature child should know not to and be able to understand why not, but that requires growing up and that seems to be the one think you shun, fear, refuse to do.

I'm sorry that you can be this irresponsible.

It will not do much good if you finally deliver what you promised at my funeral.

Sincerely,

Harold

While waiting for you to grow up and keep your word I've written more than 100,000 words of what someone ypunger should have worked on - and not one of you is able to are care about.
